SESSION 1 Recent Developments of IP Systems in each jurisdiction and WIPO and Future Trends of Global IP Systems 10 : 00 - 12 : 00

The delegates from JPO, USPTO, EPO, SIPO, KIPO and WIPO report their recent developments and introduce their visions concerning various policies toward the future. Also, they will touch on issues they think important to consider resolutions. We also expect they show their own views concerning international IP situations and circumstances surrounded by global economy and instantaneous spread and transmission of information in a borderless fashion. With respect to international trends in the future, they will explain their views on harmonization of international patent systems such as SCP (Standing Committee on the Law of Patents), harmonization of substantive rules and so on.

Moderator Yoshikazu TANI
Speakers JPO, USPTO, EPO, SIPO, KIPO, WIPO (TBA)

Lunch (with English Rakugo)

Speaker Fukumaru KATSURA (Rakugo performer)

SESSION 2 Patent Enforcement Latest Development in US, Germany, China, and Japan 13 : 30 - 15 : 30

Legal issues in patent enforcement are developing continuously but differently in each jurisdiction. In this session, the most famous, active, and respected judges from the United States, Germany, China, and Japan will present the latest controversial issues in patent infringement litigation in their respective jurisdictions, including, but not limited to, claim construction of broad claims, and the criteria and applicability of the doctrine of equivalents. It is expected that such discussions may introduce specific recent cases.

Moderator Yoshio KUMAKURA
Speaker 1 Judge Randall Ray RADER, Chief Judge of CAFC (US)
Speaker 2 Judge Prof. Dr. Peter MEIER-BECK, Presiding Judge of the German Federal Court of Justice (DE)
Speaker 3 Judge Kong XIANGJUN, President Judge of the Intellectual Property Court (3rd Division) of the Supreme Peoples' Court of China (CN)

SESSION 4

SESSION 4-1

Description Requirements

- Clarity, Support and Enablement Requirements -

Description requirements prescribed for drafting patent specifications such as clarity requirements, support requirements, and enablement requirements slightly differ from one jurisdiction to another. In order to smoothly obtain patents and secure validity thereof, we must have precise knowledge of these requirements for different jurisdictions. We will study differences in these requirements among the US, EU, China, Korea, and Japan in light of the law, examination guidelines, and court decisions.

Moderator Masashi YANAGIDA
 Speaker 1 Stephen S. WENTSLER (US)
 Speaker 2 Antonio Mario PIZZOLI (IT)
 Speaker 3 Wei WANG (CN)
 Speaker 4 Young-Wook HA (KR)
 Speaker 5 Takao KOHNO (JP)

1F The Ballroom II (Two-Track Sessions)

SESSION 4-2

How to assess registered design infringement

Designs are very effective marketing tools. In this session, we will discuss how to assess infringement of registered designs in the US, EU, UK, China, South Korea, and Japan on the basis of law, interpretation by the Supreme Court, and recent court decisions. We will also focus on who judges what constitutes design infringement, how to assess prior art, similarity of products and freedom of designers.

Moderator Hiromichi AOKI
 Speaker 1 Robert S. KATZ (US)
 Speaker 2 David C. MUSKER (UK)
 Speaker 3 Michelle MA (CN)
 Speaker 4 TBA (KR)

Coffee Break

SESSION 5

SESSION 5-1

Amendments and New Matter in Patent Applications

Amending a patent application is a critical aspect in securing the best scope of patent rights within the disclosure of an application. Amendments are limited by various rules. The limitations in how an applicant can amend a patent application vary greatly among different jurisdictions. It is important for applicants to accurately understand these differences. We will compare and study how these differences affect optimal patent prosecution in North America, Europe, China, and Japan.

Moderator Hirohito KATSUNUMA
 Speaker 1 Robert B. STOREY (CA)
 Speaker 2 Jérôme COLLIN (FR)
 Speaker 3 Jiancheng JIANG (CN)

SESSION 5-2

Protection of Non-traditional Trademarks

A growing number of countries have started to protect non-traditional trademarks, such as sound marks, motion marks, etc. This session addresses protection of non-traditional trademarks in Canada, US, EU, and Japan. Speakers will introduce basic points regarding such protection including the scope of rights, distinctiveness of marks and the scope of similarity of marks in each country and region.

Moderator Junko SAITO
 Speaker 1 Coleen MORRISON (CA)
 Speaker 2 Elia SUGRANES (SP)
 Speaker 3 Ho-Hyun NAHM (KR)
